

Private school and kindergarten Epigraph in St.Petersburg, Russia was established in 1994. It has been doing a kids English practicing summer camp for five years now. The aim of the camp is for students from 6 till 12 years old divided in two age groups to practice their English skills and have a great active interesting summer experience when they don't have an opportunity to go abroad. Each week of the camp is dedicated to one topic and then there is a program for kids to have one English lesson a day where they are introduced new vocabulary and grammar and then many fun and interesting activities for kids to practice what they've learned and to enjoy summer time and new friends as much as possible (because after all they all go to a regular school during a school year so they really need to have fun and relax). It's the job of RNGP participants to lead all the activities in English, no knowledge of Russian language is needed. We are looking for 2 RNGP participants for each term. The working time is 5 days a week from Monday to Friday, 6-7 hours a day with changing schedule. One week two RNGP participants start working at 8:30 am finish 3:30 pm the other two start at 1 pm finish at 7 pm and the next week they change. RNGP participants are provided with the approximate program for the camp but they are more than welcome to offer their ideas and leading their events. The RNGP participants will have an educator's course where they will have lessons on how to teach kids and will be provided with coach who will attend their lessons and help them to improve their work and answer all their questions. We are looking for fun interesting people with hobbies who are ready to teach English and have a fun active summer with kids in Russia The participants will live in a rented apartment near the school. No host families are provided in this program. .
